1 in 100 AEP Floodplain Development Control Area

Responsible agency:

Department of Water and Environmental Regulation

Definition of Interest:

1 in 100 Annual Exceedance Probability (AEP) Floodplain Development Control Area delineates land that may be affected by the 1 in 100 AEP flooding and therefore subject to development control.

Affect of Interest:

This property has been identified as either being:

- within the 1 in 100 AEPI floodplain; or
- within 300 metres of the floodplain and may be affected by flooding during a 1 in 100 AEP flood.

Please note: Where risk has been identified to a property within this report and construction has occurred on the land, contact your relevant Local Government Authority for management remediation plans relevant to your property, or for properties being purchased off the plan, contact your developer.

1 in 100 AEP Floodplain Areas:

Floodplain Development Strategy Area - Yakamia Creek - Albany

Coverage - DoW - WRC 15264: Yakamia Creek Flood Study - Albany Townsite (December 2002) - Aquaterra Consulting Pty Ltd - Project No. 298/B1, LiDAR: Albany Town & Frenchmans Bay (20/12/2012) & State Planning Policy No.2.6 (30/07/2013) re: climate change

The Floodplain Development Strategy for the area recommends that proposed development that is located:

- outside of the floodway is considered acceptable with respect to major flooding, however, a minimum habitable floor level of 0.50 metre above the adjacent 1 in 100 AEP flood level is generally recommended;
- within the floodway and is considered obstructive to major river flooding is not acceptable.

There is a 1% chance of the 1 in 100 AEP flood level (or greater) occurring in any one year. Larger floods will occur but will be less frequent.

As some flood risk can be mitigated through appropriate building conditions imposed by Local Government, the relevant Local Government can be contacted to ascertain if the flood risk to this property has been mitigated.

The Department of Water and Environmental Regulation (DWER) can be contacted on (08) 6364 7600 or flood@water.wa.gov.au for further site specific flood information or see www.water.wa.gov.au.

Residual Current Device

Responsible agency:

Department of Energy,
Mines, Industry
Regulation and Safety

Definition of Interest:

Residual Current Devices (RCDs) monitor the flow of electricity from the main switchboard and prevent electrocution by cutting the electricity supply if an imbalance in the current is detected. At least two RCDs must be fitted before land title is transferred.

Affect of Interest:

All home sellers and landlords must ensure that RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations to protect all power points and lighting circuits. RCDs cut the electricity supply instantly if a person touches a live part and receives a shock. By installing two or more RCDs, the property's circuits can be divided evenly between them, ensuring some light and power remains if one RCD operates. Multiple RCDs also avoid nuisance operation caused by appliances with low-level leakage currents. All properties constructed after 2000 should already have two RCDs fitted. Two RCDs must be fitted to protect all power points and lighting circuits in all homes before the land title is transferred. If you are planning to sell your home and it does not already have two RCDs protecting all power point and lighting circuits, you will need to engage a licensed electrical contractor to install them to comply with the Electricity Regulations.

Landlords must ensure RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations. If RCDs are not fitted, tenants should contact the managing agent or landlord and request that RCDs be installed as required.

Affect of Interest:

The Building Regulations 2012 in Western Australia requires owners to have mains-powered smoke alarms fitted to all dwellings that are subject to transfer of ownership, rent and hire, regardless of when they were built.
