Groundwater Salinity

Responsible agency:

Department of Water and Environmental Regulation

Definition of Interest:

The salinity in groundwater varies greatly in Western Australia. This depends on many factors such as geology, topography, climate and coastal seawater intrusion. The Department of Water and Environmental Regulation (DWER) categorises the groundwater salinity according to the salt content and its application for public drinking, irrigation, stock water etc.

Affect of Interest:

The salinity in groundwater in Western Australia varies considerably. This depends on many factors such as geology, topography, climate and coastal seawater intrusion.

Due to the fluid nature of ground conditions it is only possible to report on a indicative reading for the groundwater salinity that exists at this location.

If the groundwater salinity at this location is important then you should contact the closest regional office for advice on this subject.

Groundwater Salinity:

TDS per milligram per litre - 500-1000

Salinity is the measure of total dissolved solids (TDS) or salts in water and is reported as milligrams per litre (mg/L).

The range of salinity of natural water is:

Category	Salinity range
Fresh	0-500 mg/L TDS (suitable for selected agricultural use)
Marginal	500-1000 mg/L TDS (suitable for selected agricultural use)
Brackish	1000-3000 mg/L TDS (used for parkland irrigation)
Saline	3000-35,000 mg/L TDS (industrial use and stock watering up to 10,000mg/L)

Mosquito-borne Disease Risk
Responsible agency:
Department of Health

Definition of Interest:
Mosquitoes can be a serious nuisance in certain regions of Western Australia and can spread disease-causing viruses such as Ross River, Barmah Forest, Kunjin and Murray Valley encephalitis viruses.

Affect of Interest:
The selected area is impacted by the risk of mosquito-borne diseases.

Details are as follows:

Mosquito-borne Disease Risk:
Risk Level - Low or unknown risk
Frequent high risk
The selected area is in a region that frequently experiences problems with nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes.

Occasional very high risk
The selected area is in a region that experiences severe problems with nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes in some years, depending on environmental conditions.

Frequent high and occasional very high risk
The selected area is in a region that frequently experiences problems with nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes, and severe issues are also experienced in some years depending on environmental conditions.

Low or unknown risk
This location has not experienced high rates of mosquito-borne disease in the past. However, the sporadic nature of mosquito-borne disease outbreaks means that this not necessarily a precise indicator of future risk. Furthermore, regions with low or no resident human population may also be classified as low risk even though there may be an undocumented high risk in the area. Finally, significant mosquito nuisance issues may still be experienced, despite a low health risk.

Residents are advised to avoid exposure to mosquitoes and minimise mosquito breeding around the home as appropriate, particularly following extreme weather events such as heavy rainfall, high tides (in coastal areas) or localised flooding that may create abnormally large areas of mosquito breeding habitat.

For information on mosquito control in your local area or to report a mosquito problem please contact your Local Government Environmental Health Officer.

Residual Current Device

Responsible agency:

Department of Energy,
Mines, Industry
Regulation and Safety

Definition of Interest:

Residual Current Devices (RCDs) monitor the flow of electricity from the main switchboard and prevent electrocution by cutting the electricity supply if an imbalance in the current is detected. At least two RCDs must be fitted before land title is transferred.

Affect of Interest:

All home sellers and landlords must ensure that RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations to protect all power points and lighting circuits. RCDs cut the electricity supply instantly if a person touches a live part and receives a shock. By installing two or more RCDs, the property's circuits can be divided evenly between them, ensuring some light and power remains if one RCD operates. Multiple RCDs also avoid nuisance operation caused by appliances with low-level leakage currents. All properties constructed after 2000 should already have two RCDs fitted.

4. Details of interests that AFFECT this property

Two RCDs must be fitted to protect all power points and lighting circuits in all homes before the land title is transferred. If you are planning to sell your home and it does not already have two RCDs protecting all power point and lighting circuits, you will need to engage a licensed electrical contractor to install them to comply with the Electricity Regulations.

Landlords must ensure RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations. If RCDs are not fitted, tenants should contact the managing agent or landlord and request that RCDs be installed as required.
