Acid Sulfate Soil (ASS) Risk

Responsible agency:

Department of Water and Environmental Regulation

Definition of Interest:

The Department of Water and Environmental Regulation has produced Acid Sulfate Soil (ASS) risk maps for most coastal regions of WA to identify high risk ASS areas so disturbance and potential environmental damage can be avoided where possible. ASS risk areas are grouped into two classes according to the probability and depth of ASS and potential for disturbance.

Affect of Interest:

The area of interest is categorised into the following class or classes of ASS risk.

Note: Where more than one risk level exists at any one location within a site, the higher risk level will apply.

Please note: Where risk has been identified to a property within this report and construction has occurred on the land, contact your relevant Local Government Authority for management remediation plans relevant to your property, or for properties being purchased off the plan, contact your developer.

Acid Sulfate Soil Risk Map, Albany-Torbay:

Risk Class - 1.0

Risk Level - High to moderate risk

- Class 1 – there is a high to moderate risk of disturbing ASS materials at this site. WA Planning Commission will impose a condition on planning proposals in Class 1 areas.
- Class 2 – there is a moderate to low risk of disturbing ASS materials at this site. However, if site characteristics or local knowledge indicate the potential presence of ASS, further investigations are recommended, particularly if excavating more than 100 cubic metres of soil or carrying out dewatering/drainage works.

WA Planning Commission (WAPC) is responsible for land use planning and land development in WA. A WAPC Acid Sulfate Soils Self Assessment Form must be submitted to the Department of Water and Environmental Regulation (DWER) before planning approval is granted.

Mosquito-borne Disease Risk
Responsible agency:
Department of Health

Definition of Interest:
Mosquitoes can be a serious nuisance in certain regions of Western Australia and can spread disease-causing viruses such as Ross River, Barmah Forest, Kunjin and Murray Valley encephalitis viruses.

Affect of Interest:
The selected area is impacted by the risk of mosquito-borne diseases.

Details are as follows:

Mosquito-borne Disease Risk:

Risk Level - Low or unknown risk

Frequent high risk

The selected area is in a region that frequently experiences problems with nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes.

Occasional very high risk

The selected area is in a region that experiences severe problems with nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes in some years, depending on environmental conditions.

Frequent high and occasional very high risk

The selected area is in a region that frequently experiences problems with nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes, and severe issues are also experienced in some years depending on environmental conditions.

Low or unknown risk

This location has not experienced high rates of mosquito-borne disease in the past. However, the sporadic nature of mosquito-borne disease outbreaks means that this not necessarily a precise indicator of future risk. Furthermore, regions with low or no resident human population may also be classified as low risk even though there may be an undocumented high risk in the area. Finally, significant mosquito nuisance issues may still be experienced, despite a low health risk.

Residents are advised to avoid exposure to mosquitoes and minimise mosquito breeding around the home as appropriate, particularly following extreme weather events such as heavy rainfall, high tides (in coastal areas) or localised flooding that may create abnormally large areas of mosquito breeding habitat.

For information on mosquito control in your local area or to report a mosquito problem please contact your Local Government Environmental Health Officer.

For more information about mosquito management, contact the Environmental Health

Native Title cannot generally exist over the following types of tenure:

- residential freehold;
- farms held in freehold or;

Residual Current Device

Responsible agency:

Department of Energy,
Mines, Industry
Regulation and Safety

Definition of Interest:

Residual Current Devices (RCDs) monitor the flow of electricity from the main switchboard and prevent electrocution by cutting the electricity supply if an imbalance in the current is detected. At least two RCDs must be fitted before land title is transferred.

Affect of Interest:

All home sellers and landlords must ensure that RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations to protect all power points and lighting circuits. RCDs cut the electricity supply instantly if a person touches a live part and receives a shock. By installing two or more RCDs, the property's circuits can be divided evenly between them, ensuring some light and power remains if one RCD operates. Multiple RCDs also avoid nuisance operation caused by appliances with low-level leakage currents. All properties constructed after 2000 should already have two RCDs fitted. Two RCDs must be fitted to protect all power points and lighting circuits in all homes before the land title is transferred. If you are planning to sell your home and it does not already have two RCDs protecting all power point and lighting circuits, you will need to engage a licensed electrical contractor to install them to comply with the Electricity Regulations.

Landlords must ensure RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations. If RCDs are not fitted, tenants should contact the managing agent or landlord and request that RCDs be installed as required.
