Acid Sulfate Soil (ASS) Risk

Responsible agency:

Department of Water and Environmental Regulation

Definition of Interest:

The Department of Water and Environmental Regulation has produced Acid Sulfate Soil (ASS) risk maps for most coastal regions of WA to identify high risk ASS areas so disturbance and potential environmental damage can be avoided where possible. ASS risk areas are grouped into two classes according to the probability and depth of ASS and potential for disturbance.

Affect of Interest:

The area of interest is categorised into the following class or classes of ASS risk.

Note: Where more than one risk level exists at any one location within a site, the higher risk level will apply.

Please note: Where risk has been identified to a property within this report and construction has occurred on the land, contact your relevant Local Government Authority for management remediation plans relevant to your property, or for properties being purchased off the plan, contact your developer.

Acid Sulfate Soil Risk Map, Albany-Torbay:

Risk Class - 1.0

Risk Level - High to moderate risk

- Class 1 – there is a high to moderate risk of disturbing ASS materials at this site. WA Planning Commission will impose a condition on planning proposals in Class 1 areas.

- Class 2 – there is a moderate to low risk of disturbing ASS materials at this site. However, if site characteristics or local knowledge indicate the potential presence of ASS, further investigations are recommended, particularly if excavating more than 100 cubic metres of soil or carrying out dewatering/drainage works.

WA Planning Commission (WAPC) is responsible for land use planning and land development in WA. A WAPC Acid Sulfate Soils Self Assessment Form must be submitted to the Department of Water and Environmental Regulation (DWER) before planning approval is granted.

See our website, www.der.wa.gov.au/ass for more information or phone 1300 762 982.

Building and Construction Industry Training Levy

Responsible agency:

Construction Training Fund Board

Definition of Interest:

The Building and Construction Industry Training Levy is used to support training for people working within the building and construction industry, and is payable prior to the commencement of a project or upon application for a building license.

Affect of Interest:

The levy of 0.2% on the contract price is applied to all residential, commercial and civil engineering projects undertaken in Western Australia where the total value of construction is over $20,000. The project owner pays the levy when an application for a building permit is made to the Local Government Authority.

Building Permit

Responsible agency:

Department of Energy,
Mines, Industry
Regulation and Safety

Definition of Interest:

Generally, before any building work can be carried out a building permit must be in effect.

Affect of Interest:

A building permit application will be required to be submitted to the relevant local government if the proposal includes the construction, renovation, alteration or improvement of a building.

For information on applying for a building permit, contact the relevant local government or for general information on the building approvals process, contact the Department of Energy, Mines, Industry Regulation and Safety on 1300 489 099 or email: be.info@demirs.wa.gov.au.

Bush Fire Prone Areas

Responsible agency:

Department of Fire and
Emergency Services

Definition of Interest:

A bush fire prone area is an area that is subject to, or likely to be subject to, a bushfire attack. Additionally planning and building requirements may apply to developments within areas designated as bush fire prone by the Fire and Emergency Services Commissioner. A further assessment of bushfire risk may also be required under the Planning and Development (local Planning Schemes) Regulations 2015, State Planning Policy 3.7 Bushfire and the Building Code of Australia.

Affect of Interest:

The selected property is identified as being fully or partially within a designated bush fire prone area. Additional planning and building requirements may apply, in accordance with Schedule 2 Part 10A of the Planning and Development (Local Planning Schemes) Regulations 2015, State Planning Policy 3.7 Planning in Bushfire Prone Areas and the Building Code of Australia.

Details are as follows:

Bush Fire Prone Areas:

Designation - Bush Fire Prone Area (additional planning and building requirements may apply to development on this site)

DesignationDate - 13/12/25 (since 21/05/16)

LGA - ALBANY

Comments - This site has been in a designated bush fire prone area for longer than four months. Additional planning and building requirements may apply to development on this site.

A Bushfire Attack Level (BAL) assessment or BAL Contour Map may be required in certain circumstances under Part 10A of the Planning and Development (Local Planning Schemes) Regulations 2015 if the site has been located in a bush fire prone area for a period of at least four months. Development approval must be obtained in areas with a BAL rating of BAL-40 or BAL-Flame Zone (FZ) before commencing any development, including instances where development approval would not normally be required. A bushfire management plan may also be required.

Bushfire construction requirements set out in the Building Code of Australia apply to certain buildings in designated bush fire prone areas if the site has been located in a bush fire prone area for a period of at least four months. A further assessment of bushfire risk, such as a BAL assessment, will assist in determining the appropriate level of bushfire resistant construction that should be incorporated into the building. In general a building permit is required before undertaking most new building work.

Certain exemptions and exclusions may apply.

Local governments may also have locally specific planning or building requirements.

For specific requirements contact the planning or building section of your local government.

disease carrying mosquitoes in some years, depending on environmental conditions.

Frequent high and occasional very high risk

The selected area is in a region that frequently experiences problems with nuisance and disease carrying mosquitoes, and severe issues are also experienced in some years depending on environmental conditions.

Low or unknown risk

This location has not experienced high rates of mosquito-borne disease in the past. However, the sporadic nature of mosquito-borne disease outbreaks means that this not necessarily a precise indicator of future risk. Furthermore, regions with low or no resident human population may also be classified as low risk even though there may be an undocumented high risk in the area. Finally, significant mosquito nuisance issues may still be experienced, despite a low health risk.

Residents are advised to avoid exposure to mosquitoes and minimise mosquito breeding around the home as appropriate, particularly following extreme weather events such as heavy rainfall, high tides (in coastal areas) or localised flooding that may create abnormally large areas of mosquito breeding habitat.

For information on mosquito control in your local area or to report a mosquito problem please contact your Local Government Environmental Health Officer.

For more information about mosquito management, contact the Environmental Health Directorate on (08) 9388 4999 or email medical.entomology@health.wa.gov.au or see http://ww2.health.wa.gov.au/Articles/J_M/Mosquito-management.

Residual Current Device

Responsible agency:

Department of Energy,
Mines, Industry
Regulation and Safety

Definition of Interest:

Residual Current Devices (RCDs) monitor the flow of electricity from the main switchboard and prevent electrocution by cutting the electricity supply if an imbalance in the current is detected. At least two RCDs must be fitted before land title is transferred.

Affect of Interest:

All home sellers and landlords must ensure that RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations to protect all power points and lighting circuits. RCDs cut the electricity supply instantly if a person touches a live part and receives a shock. By installing two or more RCDs, the property's circuits can be divided evenly between them, ensuring some light and power remains if one RCD operates. Multiple RCDs also avoid nuisance operation caused by appliances with low-level leakage currents. All properties constructed after 2000 should already have two RCDs fitted. Two RCDs must be fitted to protect all power points and lighting circuits in all homes before the land title is transferred. If you are planning to sell your home and it does not already have two RCDs protecting all power point and lighting circuits, you will need to engage a licensed electrical contractor to install them to comply with the Electricity Regulations.

Landlords must ensure RCDs are installed in accordance with the Electricity Regulations. If RCDs are not fitted, tenants should contact the managing agent or landlord and request that RCDs be installed as required.

Affect of Interest:

The Building Regulations 2012 in Western Australia requires owners to have mains-powered smoke alarms fitted to all dwellings that are subject to transfer of ownership, rent and hire, regardless of when they were built.
